As a property tax payer, I do not support your property tax proposal to reduce the burden on non cropland with a corn suitability rating greater than 50% of the county's average for tillable land. County assessors make the assessments on the county's land. If I disagree with the county assessor, I have the right to vote them out of office. If this rule is enforced I can not appeal to my county assessor, if I have a disagreement on my property taxes. Every county is different and making one rule is very difficult to not have areas of the state that are discriminated against. Why not let local assessors that are elected by the people in the county determine the property taxes for that county.

Thank You
